

PETRUS-ANNETTE PhD Conference

26 to 30 June 2017

Hosted by: Universidade de Lisboa - Instituto Superior Técnico - Lisbon, Portugal

Dedicated to:

Radioactive Waste Management and Geological Disposal

The event is co-organised within the PETRUS initiative (Programme for Education, Training and Research on Underground Storage) in collaboration with the ANNETTE European project granted by EURATOM.

The conference consists of two main components:

- A set of high quality lectures on radioactive waste disposal presented by outstanding international experts.
- Oral presentation and poster exhibition of on-going research work by participants.

The best oral and poster presentations will be rewarded.

We would like to invite PhD students and early-stage researchers who are involved in any aspects of radioactive waste research to submit an extended abstract of 1- 4 pages. We welcome also research subjects from the social and economic areas related to the radioactive waste management.

The working language of the conference is English.

Participation in PETRUS-ANNETTE PhD Conference 2017 is free of charge*.

 Accommodation and travel is payable by the participants.*
